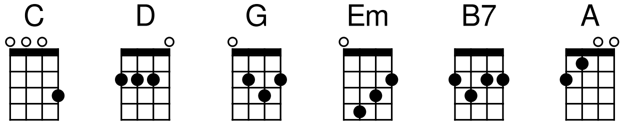
O Sacred Head Now Wounded

Key: G   Time: 4/4



```
       C      *         D   G
1    O sacred Head, now wounded
          Em        B7            Em
     With grief and shame weighed down
         C       *     D   G
     Now scornfully surrounded
          Em            B7   Em
     With thorns, Thine only crown
         D         C        G *
     How pale thou art with anguish
          C     *        Em
     With sore abuse and scorn
         D         G      A  D
     How does that visage languish
           C        D         G
     Which once was bright as morn.

          C        *          D  G
2    What Thou, my Lord, hast suffered
           Em      B7       Em
     T'was all for sinners' gain
           C        *        D   G
     Mine, mine was the transgression
         Em        B7     Em
     But Thine the deadly pain
         D      C        G *
     Lo, here I fall, my Saviour
          C   *         Em
     'Tis I deserve Thy place
          D     G        A D
     Look on me with Thy favour
          C       D      G
     Vouchsafe to me Thy grace.

          C        *       D  G
3    What language shall I borrow
        Em          B7      Em
     To thank thee, dearest Friend
         C         *     D  G
     For this, thy dying sorrow
         Em   B7      Em
     Thy pity without end?
         D       C       G *
     Oh, make me thine forever
         C        *        Em
     And should I fainting be
           D      G      A D
     Lord, let me never, never
        C       D       G
     Outlive my love to thee.

        C         *    D G
4    Be near when I am dying
         Em       B7       Em
     Oh, show thy cross to me
         C      *       D  G
     And for my rescue, flying
           Em        B7     Em
     Come, Lord, and set me free!
           D         C       G  *
     These eyes, new faith receiving
          C     *         Em
     From Jesus shall not move
         D       G      A  D
     For one who dies believing
          C       D           G
     Dies safely, through thy love.
