          C       C7              F      *                C     Am              D  G
1 I cannot tell why he, whom angels worship; Should set his love upon the sons of men
            C         C7                F       *              C          *
  Or why, as Shepherd, he should seek the wanderers; To bring them back, they know not how or
   *   E7
   when
            Am         F              C   E7                Am     F            G   *
  But this I know, that he was born of Mary; When Bethl'em's manger was his only home
             C        F            C       Am          C                G               C   *
  And that he lived at Nazareth and laboured; And so the Saviour, Saviour of the world, is come.

          C       C7          F       *             C        Am                    D   G
2 I cannot tell how silently he suffered; As with his peace he graced this place of tears
            C      C7                F     *              C       *                *    E7
  Or how his heart upon the cross was broken; The crown of pain to three and thirty years
            Am       F               C      E7              Am      F                 G   *
  But this I know, he heals the brokenhearted; And stays our sin and calms our lurking fear
               C      F              C    Am              C                G               C
  And lifts the burden from the heavy laden; For still the Saviour, Saviour of the world is here

          C       C7              F      *             C         Am          D   G
3 I cannot tell how he will win the nations; How he will claim his earthly heritage
          C      C7            F      *             C        *             *   E7
  How satisfy the needs and aspirations; Of east and west, of sinner and of sage
            Am        F                   C  E7               Am       F              G   *
  But this I know, all flesh shall see his glory; And he shall reap the harvest he has sown
               C       F                 C    Am                C                G
  And some glad day his sun will shine in splendour; When he the Saviour, Saviour of the world,
      C    *
   is known.

          C       C7                  F      *             C       Am             D      G
4 I cannot tell how all the lands shall worship; When at his bidding every storm is stilled
            C       C7            F     *            C          *               *    E7
  Or who can say how great the jubilation; When every heart with love and joy is filled
            Am        F                       C  E7               Am     F            G   *
  But this I know, the skies will thrill with rapture; And myriad myriad human voices sing
              C           F                    C Am                C                G
  And earth to heav'n, and heav'n to earth, will answer; 'At last the Saviour, Saviour of the world, is King!'
            C    *
