Hymn of Promise

Key: C Time: 3/4 Tune: PROMISE

```
          C                *               Dm              *
1 In the bulb there is a flower; in the seed, an apple tree
        G                *               C                   C7
  In cocoons, a hidden promise: butterflies will soon be free!
          F                 Em                Dm                      Am
  In the cold and snow of winter there's a spring that waits to be
      F                 C                 Dm             C
  Unrevealed until its season, something God alone can see.

             C              *                 Dm            *
2 There's a song in every silence, seeking word and melody
             G              *                   C                C7
  There's a dawn in every darkness, bringing hope to you and me
           F                   Em               Dm             Am
  From the past will come the future; what it holds, a mystery
      F                 C                 Dm             C
  Unrevealed until its season, something God alone can see.

          C             *                Dm           *
3 In our end is our beginning; in our time, infinity
          G                 *                C            C7
  In our doubt there is believing; in our life, eternity
          F              Em               Dm            Am
  In our death, a resurrection; at the last, a victory
      F                 C                 Dm             C
  Unrevealed until its season, something God alone can see.
