Hymn of Promise

Key: G Time: 3/4

```
         G               *              Am             *
1 In the bulb there is a flower; in the seed, an apple tree
       D               *              G                  G7
  In cocoons, a hidden promise: butterflies will soon be free!
         C                Bm               Am                    Em
  In the cold and snow of winter there's a spring that waits to be
      C                G                Am            G
  Unrevealed until its season, something God alone can see.

            G             *                Am           *
2 There's a song in every silence, seeking word and melody
            D             *                  G               G7
  There's a dawn in every darkness, bringing hope to you and me
           C                  Bm              Am            Em
  From the past will come the future; what it holds, a mystery
      C                G                Am            G
  Unrevealed until its season, something God alone can see.

         G            *               Am          *
3 In our end is our beginning; in our time, infinity
         D               *               G           G7
  In our doubt there is believing; in our life, eternity
         C             Bm              Am           Em
  In our death, a resurrection; at the last, a victory
      C                G                Am            G
  Unrevealed until its season, something God alone can see.
