Hymn of Promise

Key: F Time: 3/4

```
          F                 *                Gm               *
1 In the bulb there is a flower; in the seed, an apple tree
       C                 *                F                    F7
  In cocoons, a hidden promise: butterflies will soon be free!
         Bb                Am                Gm                        Dm
  In the cold and snow of winter there's a spring that waits to be
      Bb                F                  Gm             F
  Unrevealed until its season, something God alone can see.

            F               *                  Gm            *
2 There's a song in every silence, seeking word and melody
            C               *                    F                 F7
  There's a dawn in every darkness, bringing hope to you and me
           Bb                  Am                Gm              Dm
  From the past will come the future; what it holds, a mystery
      Bb                F                  Gm             F
  Unrevealed until its season, something God alone can see.

          F              *                 Gm           *
3 In our end is our beginning; in our time, infinity
          C                 *                 F            F7
  In our doubt there is believing; in our life, eternity
          Bb              Am                Gm            Dm
  In our death, a resurrection; at the last, a victory
      Bb                F                  Gm             F
  Unrevealed until its season, something God alone can see.
